

Group Assignment (45%)

Outline

This group assignment constitutes 45% of the overall In-Course Assessment (ICA) for this CmU. It covers topics on Foundational Marketing Principles, Market Segmentation & Target Marketing, Elements of the Marketing Mix: Product, Pricing, Promotion & Place Strategies. This group assignment is designed to give you a first-hand experience in applying the knowledge attained in the topics above to address a business problem and recommend the appropriate solutions.

With the rapid advancement of technology, particularly artificial intelligence (AI), there is significant potential to enhance consumers' quality of life through innovative products and services. In this assignment, students are required to develop a new consumer product or service within the F&B industry that delivers meaningful value to customers in Singapore. This may involve introducing an entirely new product category or extending an existing product line

Your team will need to present the condensed Marketing Plan using presentation slides and submit them on BrightSpace after the presentation. You may refer to the Assessment Components and Assessment Rubrics below to see the marks allocation and requirements.

Learning Outcomes

1. Examine the business environment and customer perceptions of a product/service.
2. Develop market segmentation strategies to create a competitive advantage for your product/service by applying the various segmentation bases and variables.
3. Apply appropriate Product, Pricing, Promotion and Place strategies to improve the product/service's positioning and market share.
4. Derive meaningful conclusions that support decision making for a business problem.

- Presentation will be done in class on week 8
- ALL team members to submit the Peer Evaluation Form and Further Recommendation (Word Document file) to BrightSpace by Sun, 07 June 2026, 11.59pm.

Condensed Marketing Plan

The condensed Marketing Plan is a scaled-down version of a marketing plan that excludes the executive summary, detailed marketing strategies, budgeting & resource planning, implementation plan and evaluation & control.

Introduction & Background

- Provide the introduction to your chosen company that the marketing plan will focus on. Include background information, the target market, and any relevant industry trends.

Competitor Landscape

- Conduct an analysis of TWO (2) of the company's competitors using a SWOT analysis (strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats) for each of their competitors.

Marketing Objectives

- Clearly state the specific marketing objectives that the plan aims to achieve. These objectives should be measurable, realistic, and aligned with the overall business goals.

Target Market Segment

- Define the target market for the product/service and describe the segmentation strategy. Identify the key characteristics and needs of the target market.

Marketing Mix Strategies

- Outline the marketing strategies that will be employed to achieve the marketing objectives:
  - 1) Product strategies
  - 2) Pricing strategies
  - 3) Promotional strategies
  - 4) Distribution (Place) strategies

Conclusion

- Summarize the key points of the marketing plan and restate its importance in achieving the marketing objectives and overall business goals.

Further Recommendation (Individual)

- Further recommend new ideas that can lead to a competitive edge and are flexible to changing market conditions.

Adjustment of Free Rider's Group Assignment Score

There is a peer evaluation form that you need to submit. If the average peer evaluation score awarded by other team members is less than or equal to 10 points out of 20, a learner will be identified as a free rider and consequently, the average peer evaluation score will determine the penalty to the free rider's group component score. Please also provide reasons/justifications/examples on team members highlighted as free riders in the peer evaluation form.

Each learner will rate the contribution of other team members using a 20-point scale through a confidential digital peer evaluation form administered by their tutor. The award of peer evaluation scores for other team members should be based on the quality of each team member's collaboration practices (self-awareness & management, leadership, interpersonal & collaboration, as well as communication & inclusivity skills). You should also take into account each team member's attendance and punctuality during group assignment meetings.

Your tutor will only deduct a free rider's group component score if his/her average peer evaluation scores awarded by team members is less than or equal to 10 points out of 20. (i.e. team members had rated that the free rider had contributed, on average, less than 50% to the group assignment.) As such, you should award less than 10 points (less than 50%) for a free rider's peer evaluation score with substantiative reasons/justifications/examples so that he/she can clearly be identified as a free rider.

As an illustration, if a learner had obtained an average score of 9 points out of 20 (less than 10 points) for his/her peer evaluation, he/she would be identified as a free rider who had only contributed 45% to the group assignment. This free-rider learner would only be awarded 45% of the group component score. On the other hand, another learner who had obtained an average score of 10 points and above for his/her peer evaluation would not be rated as a free rider. This learner would be awarded 100% of the group component score (no deduction to group component score).

Late submission of Assignment

Cap at 50% of base mark for submission within 5 calendar days from deadline. From 6th day onwards, 0 mark will be awarded.
